“ Amanda ,I'm so very sorry for the loss of your husband and your children's father. I'm sure your trying to wrap your mind around what has happened and haven't had time to process it .Just know that when your ready or your children are ready there are alot of people here that are willing to help you with anything you need. I've only known you for a short time and the talks we've had have shown me that you are such a caring and strong woman but please don't hesitate to let me know if you need anything. I'm saying prayers and may God wrap his loving arms around you and your children and comfort you during your families loss of Brian. God Bless you all Tina Smith (physical plant)

“ Amanda,
As I looked at Brian's Tribute Video, I was caught up in all of the smiles, several generations of smiles. So much love in your family and so much happiness, some people search a lifetime for those smiles and Brian saw his family's smiles and lived the happiness every day. I hope that can warm your heart as you go through this difficult time. Look at those smiles.
Take care dear friend,
